

Homework and mark system

Datorium DigiEduHack 2023

This project would combine both the homework or classwork system with the marking and grading system.

This kind of system would make work and learning easier for both students and teachers alike. Just like with other similar tools, you would be able to easily see your latest and all current grades, but teachers can mark other works with the tool.

The most important aspect of it would, of course, be the ability to easily create and send either classwork, homework or even any tests and for the students to easily receive them and then see the grade afterwards. While marking tests, teachers can also add their own notes that the student would receive with the grade because sometimes just a grade is not enough.
