

EdTech Solution for Better Student Motivation and Engagement

We made a prototype for an app designed to empower students in their academic journey.

This app will connect students and teachers, allowing educators to reward students with points for different achievements such as good grades, attendance, positive behavior, achievements in extracurricular activities, for works submitted on time etc..

Students will be able to track their progress and later redeem their points to make their avatar more interesting - buy clothes, accessories etc.

It's a powerful and fun tool to motivate students to achieve better results in school and would make the school environment more pleasant.
