MentAI (Scientific Research Project Assistant)

Scientific Research Project Assistant is a smart support tool designed to help students write and improve their scientific research project. The platform provides practical guidance on formatting, structure, and academic writing standards.

Students can ask questions about their research paper's layout, citations, or methodology directly through the website. In addition, the platform allows users to upload their documents for automatic language and grammar checking, helping to identify and correct errors to ensure clear, professional writing

With scientific research project Assistant, students can confidently prepare wellstructured, high-quality research papers that meet academic requirements.
