Solution Details

Solution description

With this coding that we are working on, we can now find the desired university more efficiently and more accurately, without wasting time. In addition, options such as country, city and province detail this coding.

Solution target group

It is suitable for all students preparing for university or wishing to pursue a master's degree.

Solution impact

People no longer need a course, consultant or research one by one. With this site we have developed, all of them can be accessed more quickly.

Solution tweet text

Now it's easier to find a university

Solution innovativeness

Instead of the old traditional method of researching for hours and trying to record all the information by looking at individual sites, everything is much more innovative with this site gathered in a single point.

Solution transferability

It can be changed according to all sites, countries. Every newly opened university can be added to this site.

Solution sustainability

The premise that may evolve over time is promising site work. There is a detail that can be added, many features and information. Universities' support and support of these sites prolongs this sustainability.

Solution team work

My teammate and I have worked very hard on this site and we are delighted that it has served such a purpose.
